Guideline for Book Review

About Technology, Knowledge and Learning

Technology, Knowledge and Learning emphasizes the increased interest on context-aware adaptive and personalized digital learning environments. Rapid technological developments have led to new research challenges focusing on digital learning, gamification, automated assessment, and learning analytics. These emerging systems aim to provide learning experiences delivered via online environments as well as mobile devices and are tailored to the educational needs, the personal characteristics and the particular circumstances of the individual learner or a (massive) group of interconnected learners.

Overview

Book reviews provide an informative and critical discussion of works focusing on digital learning, gamification, automated assessment, or learning analytics.

Structure

Manuscripts should be prepared according to APA, 6th ed. and in accordance with the journals' Instructions for Authors (http://www.springer.com/10758?detailsPage=plfci_1060680). The following sections are essential.

This may include the thesis of the book, the intended audience of the book, the scope and objectives of the book, the structure of the book, and a summary of the contents (chapter by chapter or in other units).

Evaluation

This section evaluates the strengths and weaknesses of the book. This may include the subject matter, writing style, achievement of objectives, contribution to the field, particular features, and practical implications.

Summary Statement

The final section includes a final assessment of the book and recommendations where the book can be used best.
